The Daily Standard. Thursday, August 22, 1872.

o Buty of an Opposition. to hold office and to administer the affairs of the country is derived from the people. That party which can command the largest measure of support from the apeople's representatives in Parliament bled is the one to whom of right belongs the governing power, and it is only so long as they can do so that they can constitutionally exercise the functions of Government and discharge the daties of Ministers of the Crown. In all countries governed upon constitutional principles, i. c., where the representatives of the people are elected by the people and public affairs are administered in accordance with their well understood wishes, there must necessarily be two parties, those who hold office and carry on the who endorse their public policy, and those who oppose the policy of the Government and docline to act with them conment and decline to act with them constitute what is commonly known as the Opposition. The duties of the Opposition, when wisely directed and judiciously exercised, are but little less important in a legislative point of view than are those of the Government. It is for that branch of the legislative body to watch every movement of the Administration, to criticize their acts, call them to account for omissions of duty, question them on all matters relating to State policy, and see that they faithfully discharge the obligations they owe to the country. They are the vigilant sentinels that guard the public interests and see that they who impose taxation and disburse the revenues of the country neither burse the revenues of the country neither overburden the people with unnecessary imposts nor suffer to go unchallenged any nerdless expenditure of public money. It is a mistake to suppose that the special business of an Opposition is to find fault with every measure and act of a Government, whether it be good or bad. Todo so as simply to display a factious spirit, out of which no possible good can come, but from which may arise much mischief. That the conduct of the Opposition in the Dominica Parliament has of late years been characterized by a spirit of Elefactionsness rather than by a desire to ensure wholesome legislation, is a fact very much to be regretted. In the face of the most convincing evidence as to the wisdom and unparalleled success of the policy pursued by the Macdonald Administration - a policy which has extended the boundaries of the Dominion from the Atlantic on the east to the Pacific on the west, which has invested millions of dollars in much-needed public works, which has given a value to Canadian securities such as they never had before, placed her commerce on a solid basis, brought the country to a state of inhounded prosperity, and beside all that has an overflowing exchequer—we say in the face of those evidences of a wise and paternal administration. istration, the persistent attacks and studied misrepresentations of the Opposition touching the policy of the Government, cannot but strike everyone not blinded by party prejudice as being purely factions and utterly unreasonable. Such a course can only result in discredit and loss of influence to those who pursue it, and it is not at all surprising that many honest men of the Reform perty refuse to allow themselves to be dragge through the mire of factious oppor through the mire of factions opposite the to the present Government, even at the risk of being tabooed by the Globs as political renegades. We see by some of found at Sayward's Yard every day from 7 A. E. to 6 in the evening. our recent exchanges that at a meeting found a the ever Riding of Middlesex, Ontario, Mr. Sc. t-cherd, the late member for that riding, who is a liberal Reformer in politics, not only declined to pledge himself to give a factious opposition to the Government, but gave the gentlemen of the Conven-tion such a plain talking to as they are likely to forget for some time to desceme. Were there more such honest and independent men as Mr. Scatcherd in the Grie ranks than there really are, in the Grit ranks than there really are, in the Grit ranks than there really are, in the Grit ranks than there really are, it would be better for the party and also better for the country, and it is to be hoped that the example which that gentleman has set will be followed ere long by fixing others. The following is a brief report from the Mail of what Mr. Scat present of the said Electorast Nanaimo to the 28th day of August, at 12 noon, for the purpose of Electing one of August, at 12 noon, for the purpose of Electing one present of the consolid present of the manner by law prescribed, such Poll will be opened on the 4th day of September next, at the undermentioned places:

and I know there are, who think that I am not a strong enough party man Well, I for my part do not believe in a rabid opposition; I have pursued the course I thought would prove most benefficial to the country, by supporting the Government when they brought in good brought in bad ones. The daty of an Connection is not to opposing a year mean Opposition is not to oppose every mea-ment, but to see that the bills introduced shall be amended and passed in such a shall be amended and passed in such a form as shall be most acceptable to the people for the good of the country at large"—and, he said, he thought the proper place for Reformers was in Opposition for they are not competent to lead a Government. While in opposition they will make great promises of what they will do when they get into power, but when they get the reins of Government into their hands they are unable to fulfil their their bands they are unable to fulfil their promises, and consequently lose popular-ity. To substantiate his statement be took the "whipper-in" of the Grit Fretion as an example; he was one day a popular man, but now where is his popular man, but now where man are man, bu doubtless would have said, as Mr.

a Tory, Mr Scatcherd, you'll have to be opposed;" but they know he is the only man that can carry the riding in the Reform, or rather in modern Conservative interests.) He then thanked the Con-The system of responsible government vention for bringing him forward again; is essentially a party system. The right of er speaking about half an hour he took

THE NEW COUNCIL AND THE RETURNING OFFI can The notice served on the Town Clerk advising him of the enquiry as to the validity of the election of certain Councillors, caused quite an excitement in the Council, when alse gentleman read the document. Speeches were made anything but flattering to the Returning Officer, who was boldly deto the Returning Officer, who was boldly de-fied; and the resolution passed, although acceptations is a fair indication of the feeling existing. Our own impression is, that all the especiations passed at the Meeting on Monday night, should the returning officer declare any of the returns invalid, are illegal, and should be set aside. Indeed a portion of the votes should they be deemed improper, being so, should invalidate the whole of the election, called for. EDITOR STANDARD:—It appears, judging from the tone of your contemporary in his issue of the 21st July, that dual representation is a dreadful affair,—in fact that such a The Onward won't leave for Yale until contemporary's idea, but we, the electors of this district, take a different view of the great evil complained of, and in extenuation of that evil we are determined to send our present member, "Bob Smith," to Uttawa, although your contemporary may think it a funny kind of palliation. We praced confidence in Mr. Smith when we returned him at the head of the pall to the local House, less the head of the poll to the local House, last year, and his record in that House satisfies us that we were not deceived in our man. Mr. Smith bas never trifled with our confi dence, neither has he toyed with the interests of the people, -he always representing the real feelings of his constituency, and we feel perfectly satisfied that he will do his duty in the Rederal Parliament. In sending Mr. Smith to Ottawa we do not do so in order to feed his vanity or ambition, but from the fact that it is our wish that he should and will go there, if the free exercise of our electotal power can do so; and we den't know who has a better tight to dispose of the gen-

The Sale of Ogden Point Lands at suction comes off this morning at Messrs. Davies' rooms. There are about sixty quarter and half agra lots to be offered, and we appear to the dual principle—or rather over-ambitious politicians who desire to grasp more power than is conducive to the public interests. And yet, 'tis strange, your contemporary on principle says: 'Let no man imagine that those remarks are dic'a ed to party feeling, or that we are politically or personally opposed to a majority of five out of the six constituencies (that represent B. TO CLOSE. EUROPE.

New York, August 20-A London specia says the riots in Belfast continue with un-abated fury, that the city is at the mercy of blood thirsty mobs. Martial law is declared; there are fears of a re-coactment of the terrible scenes of 1866. All places of business are closed at noon. A regular panic prevails, and many respectable people are flying from the city at this moment. The hospital in Patrick street is filled with the wounded and dying, and the screams of the suffering are dying, and the screams of the surering are heartrending. Several women have been shot. The police do nothing without the sanction of the Mayor, who was at length compelled to order the military to engage the rioters. About a dozen persons were shot at the Boyne bridge, so called, near the railway

The soldiers effectually cleared the streets and the rioters are now dodging around the corners firing stray shots.
